

CONSTRAINTS

Less is more capable

Parents were sending photos and using the AI as a postpartum therapist. We removed attachments because we could solve every sleep problem without them.

Isn't she the cutest thing 🥺

She really is adorable! It sounds like you're doing a wonderful job caring for her during this tricky time. If you want to share more about what's been working or any challenges you're facing, I'm here to listen and help! 🤗

What we learned post launch

The learning

Parents came to chat infrequently but when they did, it mapped directly to a sleep stage shift.

The opportunity

These chats provided rich data, helping us better understand each parent's unique challenges.
